

I'VE BEEN SEXUALLY HARASSED AT WORK.

I WANT TO KNOW WHAT MY OPTIONS ARE...

We have legislation that makes sexual harassment unlawful, yet 1/3 women report being sexually harassed in the workplace. Sexual harassment includes a range of conduct from sexual assault to intrusive questions about your private life, and everything inbetween.

If you are being sexually harassed, you have options. The process is about you and your choices. You can have a confidential chat with us about the different ways we can support you. There are various options available to you for resolving your matter. This could include support from our social workers, or referrals for other services and supports that can help you. If the sexual harassment has affected you financially, we also have financial counselling available.
